Local galleries are already doing incredible work to promote artists, encourage dialogue, and engage viewers. We want VIMA to build on these efforts, further contributing to the broader growth of Cyprus’s cultural infrastructure and art market. The timing for a fair feels right.”

Curatorial Project

Titled ‘The posterity of the sun’ VIMA Art Fair’s Curatorial Project is a site-specific presentation in the venue’s outdoor space. Curated by Ludovic Delalande, the group exhibition will present innovative perspectives from the invited curator’s recent time in Cyprus. Delalande says, “As a curator, I tend to conceive a project directly from its context. This opportunity has enabled me to discover Cyprus’s truly dynamic art scene and to explore multiple narratives from a territory uniquely situated between the West and the East”. Ludovic Delalande is curator based in Paris.

NOTES TO EDITORS

About VIMA Art Fair

VIMA Art Fair is co-founded by Edgar Gadzhiev, Lara Kotreleva and Nadezhda Zinovskaya, with gallery participation and fair programming spearheaded by an expert committee comprising Alexandros Diogenous (Founder of Pylon Art & Culture, Co-founder of Limassol Art Walks), Tasos Stylianou, (Director and Co-founder of Limassol Art Walks and Gallerist), and Andre Zivanari (Founder and Director of Point Center for Contemporary Art, Nicosia).

Vima (Βήμα), which in Greek means 'step' but also a 'podium' or 'platform', aspires to build bridges between the fast-growing art ecosystems in Cyprus and those in its neighbouring countries. Not entirely in the 'East' nor geographically 'West', it carves out a social space for interaction and practices of neighbourliness. Occupying this unique position, VIMA aims to offer participants and audiences alike, an inclusive, accessible, and engaging entry point to diverse cultural exchanges.

About the Location

VIMA will be held in The Warehouse by IT Quarter in an ex-industrial building overlooking the Mediterranean Sea. The building was originally part of the SODAP winery (Cooperative Organization for the Distribution of Viticultural Products), one of Cyprus' oldest wineries and an important piece of the island's cultural heritage.

Built shortly after the cooperative's founding in 1947, it reflected the architectural style of the time and served as the main production centre for processing grapes grown in the districts of Limassol and Paphos. Over time, the building began to deteriorate. Due to its aging structure and the need to meet modern production standards, it was eventually abandoned, marking an inevitable shift toward modern technology and upgraded facilities for wine production.
